

Of course localism needs strengthening! There is not enough localism in radio or television even. All the stories that I hear that are suppose to be local are not. A lot of events and stories need to be close to home, not across the nation. Listeners should be able to rely on the radio to hear what is going on at home.